“Our Common Purpose”

by Pastor Lisa Lopez-Meyer

“Then Jesus came to them and said, “All authority in heaven and on earth has been given to me. Therefore go and make disciples of all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Spirit, and teaching them to obey everything I have commanded you. And surely I am with you always, to the very end of the age.” -Matthew 28:18-20

Whenever people ask me about their purpose in life, I cannot help but think about the Great Commission. While here in the West we tend to think about our life purpose as something individual, something different according to our particular gifts and opportunities, Jesus spoke about purpose collectively more than individually. Even though he gave different tasks to different disciples at different times, their main calling was shared: Learn from Jesus, Share the Good News, Bring Others Along.

After Jesus ascended into heaven the church flourished because the disciples were united in their shared purpose to make other disciples. Some stayed in Jerusalem, like Peter, nurturing the church there. Others traveled far and wide across the known world sharing the message of Christ with others. All embraced the Great Commission, and empowered by the Holy Spirit, did their part.

That's how the church can still flourish today. We need to recognize that the privilege and responsibility to make disciples has been given to all of us who follow Jesus, not only to a few select leaders or to some with particular gifts. We need to understand that we have all been given the same overall mission to reach out with the good news and shape others into faithful followers of Jesus Christ. We can employ different methods or strategies, but the calling is the same.

As we start a new year, it's important to reflect on how we are being obedient to Christ's call in the Great Commission. Consider the following questions:

- Do you see yourself as someone God has called not just to learn from Jesus for your own good, but also to teach others the ways of Jesus?
- How are you encouraging others to trust God and learn from Jesus?
- How are you reaching out to others to share some aspect of the good news?
- How are you inviting others to participate in the mission of Christ, through the work of the church?

Ideally, you would be able to say yes to the first question, and name at least one or more things in response to the others. But if you find this difficult to do, it means it's time to pay some attention to the Great Commission in your own spiritual journey.

We'll be paying special attention to the Great Commission and other passages that help understand different aspects of our evangelistic mission through our Sermons in the month of January. Don't miss them! I will also be offering a learning opportunity on evangelism discussing many of the areas of a disciples' life that work for outreach and growth. We will be using materials from the new PC(USA) resource The 8 Habits of Evangelism, and focusing on the Habits of Radical Welcome, Prayer, Teaching, Fellowship and Generosity. We will meet via Zoom on Thursdays at 6:30 pm from January 8-February 5th. You won't need to read anything ahead of time to join the class, but if you'd like to have the book, you can download the free PDF from 8habits.org.

A Prayer for the Day

God of new mercies,

Thank you for the gift of this day.

Quiet my spirit so I can notice Your presence in every conversation, every task, every breath.

Guide my steps with wisdom.

Fill my heart with compassion for those I meet.

Give me courage where I feel uncertain,

strength where I feel weary,

and peace where I feel stretched too thin.

May Your light shine through me today—

not in grand gestures,

but in small acts of kindness,

steady hope,

and faithful love.

In Christ's name, Amen.

Anyone can help with Worship!

We are looking for members who would like to serve as liturgists and Scripture readers during services. See Pastor Lisa if you are interested in liturgist or reading.
